

Index of TCA Themes

To Find Lessons Plans and PowerPoints:

Return to Opening Page of Creating Meaning in Art

Click on "Art Inquiry Lessons" then on "free online lessons"

Use Left Navigation to locate Unit and Lesson

Unit	Theme
Biennial Clay	Our lives are touched by fleeting moments remembered long after they are gone.
STEAM	We are all both parts of larger external systems, and made up of smaller internal systems.
Merely Players	We all costume ourselves for the different roles we play from day to day.
Green & Gray	We all have relationships with both natural and built structures every single day.
Birds of a Feather	All around the world in in our own backyards, we share living space with birds.
Page to Screen	Innovative people adapt things for new or changing circumstances.
Copper	All of us have our own ideas about who and what is valuable in our lives.
Summer of Love	We all prize our relationship with others.
American Pop	Heroes are people who take action to make things better for others.
Realism	Each of us has a point of view that affects how we see and respond to our world.
Animal Crackers	Throughout human existence people have lived with and around animal.
Going Green	We all make decisions based on deeply-held values. For example, many people value "green" practices to help preserve the earth's natural environment.
The Nature of Wood	Ultimately, everything we eat, wear and use in our daily lives was made from natural materials.
Family Matters	We are all influenced by our families.
Arizona Landscapes	We are all dependent on and enriched by our physical environment.
Mixing it Up	Every culture builds its identity from shared activities, beliefs, and values.
Twenty Questions	Throughout history, people have been able to work out puzzles and make new discoveries by asking questions.
Biennial Glass	People throughout time and around the world have made and used glass.
Cars & Guitars	Life is full of choices.
Chuck Jones: Animation	We all learn everyday.
NCECA Clay	We all like or dislike things for different reasons.
Outsiders Within	We are all members of one or more cultures or groups.
Read Me a Picture	Books combine words and images to tell stories.
Faces	Groups of people often share ideas, yet each individual makes his or her own choices.
Paper	We all share one planet and need to take care of it.
Masters of Illusion	We all admire extraordinary skill.
Public Art	We all know about places that have special meaning.
Projecting Persona	We all want others to like and respect us.
But It's A Dry Heat	We all live in a place where climate matters.